

Ranger Report

October 19 – 25, 2014

Came into work today and it's one of those exceptionally beautiful days. The fog is wafting over the blue water. The early morning sunlight is shinning off the autumn colored trees. What a nice day to be at the lake.

I went out and took the temperature of the lake water this morning. The optimum temperature for Rainbow trout is 61 degrees. I got a reading of 62 degrees at 12 feet depth. That's great. This means we are on schedule for our first trout stocking on the 6th of Nov. Yes, it's time to get all your trout gears looked at and organized.

Creel: Catfish – 42, Blue Gill – 30, Crappie – 6, Bass - 2
