SBEA MEMBERS

We have been working on trying to improve the overall fishing quality on the SBEA lake. Two years ago, we started to put more natural structures in the deeper areas of the lake and on some areas of the shore line in 2-4 ft of water. We also let portions of our pampas grass continue to grow to also provide shade and cover. We stocked both forage minnows and some crawdads to add more of a food base for our fish. We stocked blue cats to thin out the white perch and also instituted a bounty on the white perch to control their numbers. We also increased the amount of catfish we stock from spring through fall and added extra stockings too.

Across the board we are seeing real good results! Our catfish and bass creel numbers are up and we have noticed bass and catfish being caught now through winter. Our blue gills have been using the structure for protected breeding areas as have the bass. Last spring it was noted by several members that they have seen large groups of baby bass around the docks. We are working to improve the bass, bluegill and perch fishing in the near future as we have had increased participation from our members that want to fish for these species. With our efforts we are happy to see these results. But our bass and bluegill populations are still fragile and need to be protected, as our lake receives plenty of fishing pressure. To protect our fledgling bass population, we have to institute a strict catch and release policy for all bass. This change will start April 1, 2020 through April 1, 2021 where we will review the bass population and make adjustments from there. We are also working on building up our blue gill and crappie populations and this spring we will monitor the breeding nests and numbers and make adjustments from there. We will have updates throughout the summer and fall. We thank you in advance for your understanding as we are continually striving to improve your lake.
