CATCH & RELEASE UPDATE ON BASS

Our Plan is paying off

This past year with the help of our members we have worked to improve the bass population. We are happy to see some results. With that said our bass and bluegill populations are still fragile and need to be protected, as our lake receives plenty of fishing pressure. To continue to protect our bass population, we are going to keep the catch and release policy for all bass for 1 more year. This will continue through May 1, 2022 where we will review the bass population and make adjustments from there. We are also working on building up our blue gill and crappie populations and throughout the year, we will monitor the breeding nests and numbers and make adjustments if needed. We thank you in advance for your cooperation as we are continually striving to improve your lake.
